NO. 47

Be on your Guard.

If some grocers urge another baking powder upon you in place of the "Royal," it is because of the greater profit upon it. This of itself is evidence of the superiority of the "Royal." To give greater profit the other must be a lower cost powder, and to cost less it must be made with cheaper and inferior materials, and thus, though selling for the same, give less value to the consumer.

To insure the finest cake, the most wholesome food, be sure that no substitute for Royal Baking Powder is accepted by you.

Nothing can be substituted for the Royal Baking Powder and give as good results.

A PLUCKY RIDER.

Miss Hannah Innes Had a Remarkable Experience With Her Horse.

Miss Hannah Innes went to Louisville Monday to receive treatment for an injury sustained several weeks ago by a fall from her horse. She was seated in the saddle when the animal, in an effort to dislodge her, began to rear and plunge. The plucky young lady, instead of becoming frightened and screaming for help, endeavored to force the horse along with her whip, which so enraged the brute that he deliberately set to work to throw her by repeated dashes, sudden halts, high leaps, kicks and quick turns from side to side. Failing to accomplish his purpose, the animal stood straight upon his hind legs while Miss Innes braced herself in the stirrup and clutched his mane. At last in desperation he laid down on the ground and began to kick and roll from side to side when the brave rider was pitched forward to the ground on her face, across the saddle, and received, it is feared, internal injury, which though painful will probably yield to skillful treatment. The strange part of the occurrence, however, is the evident remorse the horse experienced for his ungallant conduct. After running riderless at a break neck speed for a mile or more, he came back to the spot where he had thrown Miss Innes and found her still lying there helpless and alone. As he actually seemed bent on her mounting him again, she contrived to pulled herself up to his back when he trotted off and carried her home at an easy and gentle pace.

Was a Depositor.

Mr. J. F. Lewis, formerly of this city, was a depositor in the Kentucky National Bank, which failed in Louisville Saturday, and returned to that city Saturday evening from a two weeks' vacation in the mountains of Virginia, to find his individual funds, together with a considerable portion of those of the Utica Lime and Cement Company, of which organization he is the cashier, locked up in the defunct bank. We are glad to say, however, that neither will lose anything as the assets of the bank are ample to cover its indebtedness.

Elder S. S. Beaver, of McAllisterville, Juniata Co., Pa., says his wife is subject to cramp in the stomach. Last summer she tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for it, and was much pleased with the speedy relief it afforded. She has since used it whenever necessary and found that it never fails. For sale by J. W. Gayle.

The following letter is from a health resort, where a number of persons from and known in this city are now sojourning:

CRITTENDEN SPRINGS, July 24, 1893—

Crittenden Springs is situated on the C. & O. V. R. about five miles from Marion, Ky. Following a circuitous but delightfully cool roadway, one arrives at the Crittenden Springs Tavern, a handsome, well-appointed hotel, standing upon a hill, at the foot of which there gushes forth a well of health-giving sulphur water. Set deep in rolling hills and green valleys, far from the dust and heat of the city, "far from the maddening crowd," is this ideal health and pleasure resort, where fine culture, a splendid Italian band, tennis-court, ten pins and a host of pretty girls combine to make it fastidious.

Among the hundred and thirty-five guests are the following:

Frankfort—Judge Caswell Bennett, wife and daughter, little Virginia; Louisville—Mrs. Robt. Fletcher and family, H. Ditto, J. B. Allen, Memphis—Geo. Forrest, Mrs. J. W. Fulmer, Miss Katie Wilkerson, Joe. B. Cabell, T. B. Allen; Paducah—Mrs. Cook Washburn, Mrs. Whitfield and family, Miss Bettie Woolfolk, Frank Harris, Geo. Rankin, Albert Foster, J. A. Rudez and family, W. C. Ellis, Miss Leola Cox and family, Miss Ruby Cobb; Henderson—Senator H. C. Dixon, Ingram Crockett and wife, Capt. C. G. Perkins and wife, Misses Lizzie and Ella Perkins; Miss Sarah Young, Mrs. Arthur Jarvis, Mrs. Aroh D. Brown, Dr. W. I. Thompson, Starling Thompson, Jackson McClain and family, H. F. Dade and wife, W. J. Marshall and wife.

THE OPERA HOUSE.

A Few of the Things Needed to Make it Even Compare With Opera Houses in Small Towns.

A city of the size of Frankfort should have a handsome opera house. This is especially emphasized as an important consideration in this city from the fact of its being the capital of the State and requiring occasion. ally a public hall for the amusement-loving part of the Legislature and as a place of meeting for district and State conventions of all kinds. Small towns as Paris and Georgetown, which are not one half or one third as large as Frankfort, maintain opera houses that are gems compared to the dingy, filthy hall designated here as an opera house. The management can not hope to induce good companies to sign contracts to play here when the members of the company are obliged to use dressing rooms that are not inviting or provided with conveniences without which a fourth rate hotel would not be regarded as habitable. A place of entertainment like an opera house should be cheery and inspiring with beautiful colors, bright lights and every comfort and convenience that would both insure ease and mental recreation, and until such a desirable improvement in the hall here has been made by the council, there is small chance for a manager to succeed, even with first class attractions on the stage. People who go to a performance at the opera house and pay for their seats want to obtain the full worth of their money and they don't want to be disturbed by the noise of walking or scraping of feet on a bare floor, or during an intermission or otherwise to be obliged to sit in a half darkened room staring at a sooty drop curtain or wondering whether or not the streaks and stripes of dirt on the walls were originally a part of the fresco work.

The council should appoint a committee to investigate the matter and arrange for providing the hall with the necessary conveniences in the dressing rooms, a new drop curtain, a carpet, at least in the aisles, electric lights and fresh fresco on the walls.

Fire Yesterday.

The alarm of fire yesterday afternoon, about 1:30, sent in from box 23, was occasioned by the burning of a wood shed on the premises of Mrs. Cowney, on the south side of Main street, on Arsenal Hill. The loss was about $50. The fire department prevented serious damage to adjoining buildings.

Mr. Martin Moran, father of Mrs. Cowney, had his hands severely burned in undertaking to save several bacon hams which were hanging in the shed.

THE BANK CRISIS.

Without Cause Depositors Make a Run on Louisville Banks and They Were Obligated to Suspend.

The suspension of the Kentucky National, Louisville City National, Merchants National, Louisville Deposit and Fourth National Banks of Louisville, on Monday and Tuesday of this week, threatened for a while to shake confidence in all the banks of that city as well as other cities in the State. The statements of the condition of these banks, both before and after the suspension, showed there was no occasion at all for alarm among the depositors. They made a heavy run on the first mentioned bank, which, closing its doors, caused the run to be made on the other banks and a like necessity to suspend. No bank would want the deposits if it would be required to keep the entire amount constantly on hand to meet any emergency, and the mere suspension of payment of the banks in Louisville was not in the least the result of bad management or weak condition of the banks but simply an inability to realize on the bank's collateral. Fortunately the people realized this in time to restore confidence by Wednesday and to spare the rest of the banks the necessity to close their doors to the public.

In this city the people demonstrated their confidence in their moneyed institutions and made no effort to disturb the regular channel of business by withdrawing their deposits or refusing to receive checks. State Treasurer Hale, as a safe-guard for the State's revenue, for which he is responsible on his bond, declined to accept any thing but currency in payment of the money due the State, but that had no effect in the business community. It could easily be perceived that the whole trouble had no foundation in fact, and that it only required a few days for the restoration of confidence and general resumption of trade when the people would look back at this week's crisis and wonder why they were alarmed without an adequate cause.

THE KENTUCKY MILITARY INSTITUTE.

Dr. J. Q. A. Stuart Purchases it for a Sanitarium and School for Feeble-Minded Children.

The Kentucky Military Institute property will pass next week into the possession of Dr. J. Q. A. Stuart, Superintendent of the Feeble-Minded Institute. The negotiations for the sale have been consummated, but the papers have not been made out and signed by the parties to the transaction. The price agreed on was $6,500, which is regarded by those who know as the cheapest property sold in the county for years. Besides the buildings, which, though old, are splendidly constructed, and needing but a couple thousand dollars for repairs to make them superior to any thing of the kind in the State, there are 125 acres of cleared and timbered land unsurpassed in the county for beauty of location. Dr. Stuart proposes to convert the property into a sanitarium and school for feeble-minded children and will be ready to open it the first of next September with his son, Dr. John P.

Stuart, as Superintendent. There will be a corps of nurses and teachers employed and Dr. Stuart, sr., will be the consulting physician. His long experience and extended reputation in the special care, treatment and training of the feeble-minded will insure the success of the enterprise.

Managing a Hotel.

From the Fort Smith, Arkansas, Daily News Record we learn that the Hotel Main, one of the principal hotels of that city, has recently changed hands and a well-known and popular Frankfort boy gets a promotion in the deal. The News Record says:

With the sale of an interest in this popular house to Col. Yoes, the affable chief clerk, Col. W. A. Gaines, was made manager, and that means a high standard in the future for the Hotel Main, for with so thoroughly competent gentleman as he in direct management, success can not fail to be the result. In addition to his duties as manager Col. Gaines will be found behind the desk during the day, with a smile of welcome and kindly word of cheer for the weary traveler who desires a homelike place of rest. Mr. Albert Williams is night clerk, and a courteous, accommodating young gentleman he is.

Will's friends will doubtless be surprised to know that he has gotten to be a Colonel, but then Frankfort boys are liable to achieve the top round of distinction wherever they go, and here's wishing the Hotel Main renewed prosperity under the command of Col. Gaines.

Mrs. R. C. Rhen,

Of Milford, Neb., says she suffered greatly from a complication of diseases of female weakness and liver and kidney troubles. Her health was fully restored by using Dr. Hale's Household Tea, the most pleasant and effective medicine known. 25c. and 50c. per package at P. H. CARPENTER'S drug store.

GEO. A. LEWIS, Editor and Pub.

FRANKFORT, JULY 29, 1898.

THE KENTUCKY RIVER.

Appropriations for the Kanawha and Necessity Now for Urgent Action to Obtain Justice for Kentucky.

The official figures on the cost of the improvement of the Kanawha river and the tonnage shipments of coal from that valley for a period of ten years, are matters which, together with the money paid into the United States treasury for a year from Kentucky tobacco and whiskey alone should be brought immediately to the attention of the Secretary of War. If West Virginia, which does not compare with Kentucky in the amount of revenue collected, can secure on June 30, 1892, an appropriation of $2,579,800 toward the improvement of the navigation of the Kanawha river; on July 13 of the same year $225,000 additional, and also authority to make contracts to complete the work, estimated at $1,060,700, or a total sum within one year of $3,865,300, surely Kentucky, which last fiscal year ending June 30th, 1893, paid into the General Government, through the Internal Revenue districts, $29,618,820, ought, with slight effort on the part of her Senators and Representatives in Congress, to be able to secure for the Kentucky river at least one million dollars. The present improved condition of the Kanawha has already been the direct means of increasing the tonnage shipments of coal from 16,280,356 in 1882 to 67,631,888 in 1892, opening to the Ohio and Mississippi valley the free lockage Kanawha as a competitor to the heavy tollage Monongahela, reducing prices very materially and rendering coal famines almost an impossibility. But why should Kentucky, with her vast fields of coal, marketable through the speedy completion of this river improvement at a less cost than it requires for the Kanawha, pay tribute to another State? Louisville, as well as this city and the counties along and through which the Kentucky river flows, should present the necessity of a large appropriation for this river so forcibly to the Secretary of War as to leave him no room to evade the issue of his signature to a request for $1,000,000 from Congress. These estimates are being made up now by the Secretary of War, and upon them the appropriations will be fixed by Congress, and if the people of the State do not want all their money drained away from them to pay for rivers and harbors of other States while a mere pittance is returned for an improvement which when completed will pour a tide of wealth into their own pockets, they will vigorously assert their demand, by letter and press, insisting that their Representatives in Congress show their value to their constituents by obtaining equal justice in the river and harbor appropriations with a State like West Virginia, and thereby securing to the Kentucky river, which is even more important to the whole Ohio and Mississippi valley than the Kanawha, a sum sufficient to push the improvements rapidly forward, without cessation, to the coast and iron countries of Eastern Kentucky.

A BENEVOLENT CITIZEN.

He has $2,000 to Give Away to a Good Cause and a Hospital is Suggested to Him.

It is a rare thing, in the light of the bank failures and the desire of mankind to keep everybody informed about what both of their hands are doing, to discover a man who not only has more money than he wants but is actually looking on the dead quiet for some charity to which he might donate about $2,000 of his surplus. He is not wealthy and able to throw the money away without feeling its loss but his own prosperity and the knowledge that there is a demand upon every fortunate citizen to mitigate and relieve the pain, sorrow or distress of his less fortunate fellow creatures, have prompted him to set aside the sum mentioned on his accumulations, for a charitable cause in which the money might be used to the highest possible advantage. With this end in view, the gentleman, who lives at the Forks of Elkhorn, has been confidentially talking to two or three of his friends, two of whom have advised him to give it to a fund for the establishment and maintenance in this city of a Franklin County Hospital. They urge that the necessity for something of this kind is becoming greater every day; that hardly a day passes that some one hasn't a finger or limb injured at a saw mill, distillery or on the railroad, or is required to go to Louisville or Cincinnati to undergo an operation and pay heavy board and expenses when, if there was such a public institution here, with the proper accommodations for patients, they could have all the very best surgical and medical skill, either as a matter of charity, if they were unable to pay for it, or at the least possible expense, if they had sufficient means to justify the outlay. The friends also told the gentleman that if such a fund were started by his donation, which might be made conditional, they were satisfied that the city and county would contribute to the cause and be joined in the movement by the citizens who not long ago subscribed a good round sum which, it is believed, is still intact and ready to be turned over to a hospital fund. Give the hospital then another push and he prepared not only to assist charity patients but also to furnish the best treatment to such pay patients as may fall ill of infectious or contagious diseases which may require separation from their family or friends.

Decidedly Shaky.

A trembling hand, an uncertain step, adhesions, indicated by restless shifting from one place or posture to another, usually mental appearance at unexpected noises, are among the indications of extreme nervousness. These seem trifling, but the health of men and women in this condition is "decidedly shaky," liable to be overthrown disastrously by causes which the vigorous might defy. To fortify the nervous system, general vigor must, through the medium of reinforced digestion, and a renewal of an impaired power of sleeping at night, be raised to a healthy level. A guarantee of this is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which re-establishes the habit of body on a permanently regular basis, thus renewing that bodily equilibrium, which is followed by a gain of strength and nerve tranquility. For kidney complaint, rheumatism, neuritis, and as a preventive of the first attack or subsequent return of malaria, disorders, this medicine is without a peer. Thrice-daily take a wineglassful.

After the county institute has been held, it shall be unlawful to grant any person a certificate to teach at any time during the school year, unless the said person shall have attended the full session of the institute of that or some other county during that school year, or unless the county superintendent shall be fully satisfied that the failure to attend the institute had been caused by sickness or other disability. The time of actual attendance upon the institute, in days and parts of days, shall be accredited to the teacher if the institute be held during the session of his school. At the close of the institute the county superintendent shall give to each teacher or other person in attendance a certificate of the number of days and parts of days that the teacher or person had attended, which certificate of attendance shall be filed by the teacher with the chairman of the board of trustees of the district, who shall make report thereof to the county superintendent at the time of reporting the school.

can never rest on a body frail from disease any more than the lovely lily can grow in the sterile soil. When consumption fastens its hold upon a victim; the whole physical structure commences its decay. At such a period before the disease is too far advanced, Dr. Fitch's Golden Medical Discovery will arrest and cure it. So certain is this, that an offer is made to refund the money paid for it when a failure can be found under the condition of a fair trial.

For State Certificates.

The examination of teachers who wish to receive State certificates will be held by the County Board of Examiners at the Court-house in this city on the first Friday in August. The law requires that teachers applying for these certificates shall be examined in three additional studies, viz: English Literature, Elementary Algebra and Higher Arithmetic, and those intending to apply should come prepared to be examined in those studies, in addition to the regular common school course.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT

FRANKFORT, JULY 29, 1893.

Thinks Him Well Qualified.

The Fulton Fultonian, which is edited by a member of the State Board of Equalization, pays one of our young lawyers the following deserved compliment:

Robt. Franklin who served the State Board of Equalization in the capacity of chief clerk at its recent session, is a candidate for County Attorney of Frankfort county. We know nothing of the merits or qualifications of his opponents, but of one thing we are certain. Mr. Franklin possesses superior qualifications of head and heart, and will, if elected, make one of the best officers in the State. His position on the board has better qualified him for the position, and the people of Frankfort and Franklin county cannot do better than elect him by acclamation.

Is a Stockholder.

Mr. Benedict Farmer, of this county, is a stockholder in two of the Louisville banks which suspended during the last week, having three thousand dollars invested in the stock of the Kentucky National and twenty-seven hundred in the City National.

Has Returned.

Dr. Goldstein, the popular optician, of Louisville, is again in the city, stopping at the Hotel Kenyon, where he will be glad to see his old friends and fit glasses to their eyes. He can please you, if anyone can, with eye glasses or spectacles. Call and see him.

Fair Catalogue.

About a dozen copies of the catalogue of the Lexington Fair have been left at this office for distribution, and any person desiring one will please call and get it.

Don't Want Any Advice.

"The State militia has been called into camp at Bowling Green. Our Bowling Green friends are warned against crediting the State, because this administration repudiated the accounts of the merchants of Frankfort for a similar encampment held here. The merchants of Bowling Green should require cash."

The above is from the Frankfort Argus and is a fair sample of a number of communications which have been received by the merchants of Bowling Green. Several days ago they received a lengthy circular from the "defrauded merchants" of Frankfort "warning" them against furnishing supplies for the coming encampment unless paid cash. The article given above came in a marked copy of the Argus to a citizen here. The Times is authorized to state that the solicitude of the Frankfort merchants for the Bowling Green merchants is altogether unnecessary. Our merchants are amply able to take care of themselves and are not afraid of being defrauded by the State. They have no doubt that they will be fairly and honorably treated and do not expect to be called on to furnish anything which the law does not allow and consequently their accounts will not be repudiated. The merchants of Frankfort and the Argus should know that they are giving advice where it is not sought or needed and to men who at least have sense enough to attend to their own business. These anonymous warnings are in exceeding bad taste to say the least of them as well as unpatriotic and spiteful. The proper authorities will be extended all the credit they desire by our merchants, and these same merchants are not afraid of "repudiation."—Bowling Green Times.

Editor Roundabout:

DEAR SIR: I know you are the best posted man in town, so I hope you will answer me one question. Why is it that drug clerks, boot and shoe clerks, dry goods men and furnishing goods men all get off from 10 days to two weeks every summer, on full pay, while the grocery clerk never has a day off, not even the 4th of July nor Thanksgiving? I know some of the other lines of business have bosses whose souls are so little you could blow them through a hummingbird's quill into a mosquito's eye and it wouldn't make him wink, still his clerks get off and so does his porter, on full pay.

I know the grocery men have souls as large as a whole corporation, and, consequently, think the fault is with the grocery clerk, who comes so near knowing everything that the town can not spare him for so long a time. Even you editors go away and leave everything to the "devil," but I know how to excuse you fellows who have names and plenty of kin folks at a distance.

If my question should prove too hard for you just turn it over to your "devil," who is the next smart fellow to the grocery clerk. I know he will not fail to answer.

Hoping that I am not imposing on your valuable time, I am,

Yours truly,

Rev. E. A. Penick preached his farewell sermon at Ascension Church Sunday morning to a large congregation. He has served the parish long and faithfully, and has greatly endeared himself not only to his parishioners but the community generally, and there was a universal expression of regret when it was known that he had accepted another charge in a distant State. We trust that his relations with his new parish may be as mutually pleasant and that he may be as fully appreciated by his new charge as he was for so many years in this city. He left with his family Thursday for Virginia, where they will remain until the first of September, and then go to their new home in Camden, New Jersey.

Revs. J. W. Howe and H. C. White, who began a protracted meeting at the Bridgeport Christian Church Monday night, are preaching to large congregations each evening and great interest is being manifested in the community.

The union services will be held at the First Presbyterian Church to-morrow evening, Rev. H. G. Henderson, of the Methodist Church, will deliver the discourse.

George and two younger daughters, of this city; Mr. John

WORLD'S FAIR NOTES.

A Few Pointers About Chicago.

As a great many readers of the ROUNDABOUT will make their first trip to Chicago during the World's Fair, a few pointers regarding the geography of the city will be appreciated. In the first place fix firmly in your mind that Lake Michigan forms the eastern boundary of the entire city, and if you stand facing the lake with both arms outstretched the left hand will point to the north and the right hand will point straight down the tracks of the Big Four route to the World's Fair buildings, situated at the southern end of the city. Paste this in your hat and you have the key to the entire situation. Coming into Chicago on trains of the Big Four Route, which is the only railroad having an entrance on the south side along the lake front, where all the hotels and boarding houses are located, you will find yourself passing practically through the exposition grounds and a magnificent panoramic view of the fair is obtained.

At the World's Fair station of the Big Four route, if you step off at the right side, you are at the entrance gate to the exposition and can begin "doing" the Fair at once; if you step off on the left side, you will find yourself in the finest residential portion of Chicago, and right in the midst of the World's Fair hotel and boarding house district. The chances are ten to one that you will be within a few minutes' walk of the very place you have selected for your headquarters.

If you prefer to go down town, ten minutes' ride will bring you to the new Twelfth Street station, in the heart of the city. Now bear in mind the manifest advantage of entering Chicago on the Big Four route. In the first place you avoid entirely the bother and trouble of a tedious transfer across the city, which is necessary via all other lines, being landed directly at the exposition grounds, an advantage offered by no other line; and in the second place you can so fix the geography of the city in your mind that you will at once become as familiar with Chicago as you are with your own town.

Another point in favor of the Big Four route is found in the fact that if you enter Cincinnati on the Queen & Crescent route, Louisville & Nashville R. R., Kentucky Central Ry., Chesapeake & Ohio Ry., or Baltimore & Ohio R. R., connection is made in Union depot, avoiding the disagreeable transfer necessary via all other lines. For full particulars address D. B. MARTIN, General Passenger agent, Cincinnati.

BASE BALL.

Frankfort Wins From Lexington on Their Own Grounds.

LOUISVILLE AND LEXINGTON DOWNED.

Where is "The Man That Bit the Onion?"

BUT WE DID THE CLEANING UP. LEXINGTON, July 28—Frankfort, 9; Lexington, 3.

On Friday afternoon the Deppen Club, of Louisville, came up and played an interesting game with the home club at Lake Park. The game was an exciting one at times, but only a small crowd was present to witness it. Play opened up with our boys at bat, who made one score, but the visitors went them several better in their half of the inning and tallied four times. In the third inning they added another score to their column, but our boys never let them score afterward, and by getting a man across the plate in every inning kept close up until the fifth, when they made three scores, taking a good lead which they increased in the eighth and ninth. Vanderveer was put into the pitcher's box in the fourth inning and proved a puzzle to the Deppens, but one hit being made and not a tally recorded on his delivery.

McFarland took Dick's place in the field and made a wonderful left-handed catch of a ball which looked like a home run hit, after a long run for his life. Following is the score:

| FRANKFORT. | AB. | R. | H. | E. | PO. | A. | E. |

MONDAY'S GAME.

The Lexingtons came, saw and were conquered. They were never in the game at any stage, although it is due them to say that Conover, Brown and Reeder were all more or less under the weather, and the intense heat did not tend to improve their condition. Conover was compelled to retire from the game in the fifth inning, Zahner taking his place. Watta going to short and a young man from Lexington named Higgins going to right field. After two more innings Brown was compelled to give up trying to catch, although he pluckily played the game out at short and Zahner put on the mask while Wallace went into the box.

The game in detail was not interesting, as it became apparent in the first two innings that the home club would have a walk-over. In spite of his two errors, Frank Barrett played a fine game at third, making some beautiful stops and throws. Pen Merchant, who played his first game of the season with the locals, covered the center garden and made a couple of pretty catches. Henry Lindsey's batting was another note-worthy feature. Henry has been "gingling" the ball in every game of late. For the Lexingtons, the batting of Brown and Swift was quite heavy, but no especially good field work marked their play, except a phenomenal one hand catch of a foul fly, after a hard run, by Horace McFarland, erstwhile one of "ours." The score follows:

Passed Balls: Zahner. Time of Game: Two hours. Umpires: Kelly and Richardson.

There was not an unpleasant feature connected with the game. The umpires gave satisfaction and no kicking was indulged in. Quite a number of Lexington people came down with their club, and while some gruffing was indulged in, it was in perfect good humor. One gentleman insisted on informing the audience that several of the Lexington players, when they came to bat, was "the man who bit the onion," but as they generally bit the dust before McFarland, it was hard to determine which one of them had really masticated the odoriferous vegetable.

The Frankfort club went to Lexington yesterday afternoon to play a return game with the Lexingtons, and the papers of that city have been making a good blow about how they were to be cleaned up. Five games have been played by the two clubs up to yesterday afternoon, that making the sixth, Frankfort winning three of them.

THE ELECTRIC RAILWAY.

Contracts Made for the Disposal of the Bonds and Construction of the Road.

The electric street railway is now under contract. Messrs. Lindsay & Wigus, brokers, of New York City, have entered into agreements to dispose of the bonds of the company and to superintend and manage the construction of the railway. The laying of the tracks, wiring, erection of poles, power house and car barn was awarded to Frank Whitley, a large contractor of Springfield, Ohio, who has already purchased the rails and made arrangements for the rest of the material to complete his contract on or before November 1, 1883. Cross ties are now being laid on the streets and a force of men will soon be at work laying the rails and putting up the poles. This railway will be one of the most advanced steps towards keeping pace with the times that the city has taken for many years, and to hinder its progress by circumventing its limits, would be a detriment to the city which would directly or indirectly affect the interests of every property holder, not only in the city but for a number of miles beyond its boundaries. The city council, at its meeting Wednesday night, acted wisely in holding that the Lawrenceburg Turnpike Company had no more claim to Todd street between Murray and Logan than a right of way, which the electric railway can equally claim to possess, and any attempt on the part of the turnpike company to hinder the construction of the railway along that street should receive the prompt co-operation of the city in the enforcement of the railway company's rights. The prosperity of the city should not be retarded by any citizen or company, and no well wisher of Frankfort will make his personal interests, similar to the claims of the turnpike company, which, even if they should be upheld, will be of no real value to him, superior to the general welfare of a city which requires more room for its growing needs and facilities to encourage manufacturing enterprises.

Nervous Prostration.

A large manufacturer, whose affairs were very much embarrassed, and who was overworked and broken down with nervous exhaustion, went to a celebrated specialist. He was told that the only thing needed was to be relieved of care and worry, and have a change of thought. This doctor was more considerate than patients' health than of his financial circumstances. He ought to have advised him to use Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve, the best remedy for nervous prostration, sleeplessness, dizziness, headache, ill effects of spirits, tobacco, coffee, opium, &c. Thousands testify to cures. Books and trial bottles free at J. W. Gayle's.

The Verdict Unanimous.

It pleases the lawyer and his client too, have the verdict of the jury unanimous. A great jury composed of the American public has rendered an unanimous verdict on Dr. Hale's Household Cough Cure as a medicine, agreeing that its promise of a speedy cure for coughs, colds and bronchial troubles are always carried out to the letter. This pleasant verdict has not been obtained without great pains taken to make it the best cough cure on the market. Try a bottle when you have a cough or cold and you will belong to the "unanimous" ever after. For sale by P. H. CARPENTER, druggist.

Pea Ridge.

Mr. John Williams, of Sallowfield, who has been visiting his father, Mr. Joe Williams, has returned home.

Mr. Homer Wilson is visiting relatives at Sallowfield.

Mr. James Tracy and Mr. Will Dennis have the boss corn in this section on the Fleetwood Stock Farm.

Wheat and oats out, large crop and excellent quality.

The best season for grass and hay for a number of years.

Mrs. Humphrey and Mrs. Sanders, of Louisville, who have been visiting Mrs. Ready, have returned home.

Mrs. W. Tracy, of Dayton, Ohio, is visiting Mrs. James Tracy.

Mr. James A. Violet, of Frankfort, visited the Ridge on business last week.

Raising stock and a crop on the same land without fence is a poor business. There are very few stock proof fences here and so several of our farmers have notified neighbors of the trespasses of their cattle and have received return notice of their own stock. It is safe to say that more time has been lost by our people chasing stock than would build a fence around every farm on the Ridge.

Concerning the nomination for County Superintendent, support is asked for this or the other candidate because of his being a school teacher. What has that to do with it? There are three times as many trustees in the county as there are teachers. If the Superintendent must represent a class, why not represent the larger one and select one of the trustees, and in making the selection the people might do worse than select the trustee of the Pea Ridge School, Capt. Will Tracy. He has been in office longer than any other trustee in the county. Capt. Tracy has always been a Democrat, he never was tempted to turn aside after other transient side-issues, such as Greenback, Labor, Prohibition, Alliance or People's party, but always stood by the grand old Democratic party and supported it when it most needed help. After serving his county so many years without pay it would be an act of courtesy now to give him an office that does pay, which can be done by the nomination of Capt. Will Tracy, of Pea Ridge.

A new flag on the post-office at Frankfort would be an improvement. The present one is so stained with smoke as to be almost black and gives the entire building a practical appearance.

If some of the good people of Frankfort would start a mission on the Ridge it would be greatly appreciated by our people. There is no religious instruction whatever given on the Ridge. It is well known that large sums are given to mission work by the good people of Frankfort, while close by we need their help so much. Cowper might have had this place in mind when he wrote:

The sound of a church-going bell,
 These valleys and rocks never heard.

Will the Christian people of Frankfort assist us in this matter and honor this appeal when they now know the very urgent need?

Mr. Walker Chambers, of Lexington, who has been visiting Mr. John Dennis, returned home Sunday week.

Blackberries are scarce but snakes are plentiful and of extra large size.

For over a year the people of Frankfort in general and the ROUNDABOUT in particular have been subjected to a severe course of roasting from almost the entire press of the State, because our people wished to retain the State Capital where the early settlers wisely located it. All readers of the ROUNDABOUT everywhere agree that it held its end of the line up in good order and took its roasting in good humor and at times most blisteringly scorching the roasters, but the ROUNDABOUT's best utterance appeared after the Capital question was settled, a few weeks ago. It spoke real lovingly of Louisville, Lexington and all the world besides. It was aliterary gem, a general hand-shaking, love feast and picnic combined.

Miss Olla B. Suttles will teach the Pea Ridge school this term.

A few weeks ago the ROUNDABOUT announced a well-known physician for the Legislature, concerning which a citizen said: "I don't vote for him, I'm agin him, for when he gets settled to business someone will get sick and he'll have to go and neglect the State business." It will be very unfortunate if people get sick because a physician is elected to the Legislature, and more unfortunate that the gentleman should lose a vote because of his ability as a physician.

Last fall I was taken with a kind of summer complaint, accompanied with a wonderful diarrhea. Soon after my wife's sister, who lives with us, was taken in the same way. We used almost everything without success. Then I asked let us try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy, which we did, and that cured us right away. I think much of it, as it did for me what it was recommended to do. John Herzler, Bethel, Berks Co., Pa. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by J. W. Gayle.

The readers of the ROUNDABOUT will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

From Shreveport, Vicksburg and Jackson another through sleeping car line comes to join and become a part of the magnificent vestibuled through trains, which passing through Birmingham and the famous Wills Valley, of Alabama, is joined at Chattanooga by the train from Jacksonville, Florida, Brunswick and Atlanta, Georgia, over the E. T. V. & Ga. Ry., and proceeds north over the beautiful Cincinnati Southern, through the grandest natural scenery and most attractive historical country in the world to Oakdale, where another magnificent Pullman car is received, coming from the Richmond and Danville system from Charleston, S. C., through Columbia, S. C., the beautiful French Broad country, and Asheville, N. C., and Knoxville, Tennessee.

The time to Chicago is made so as to afford the most convenient hours for departures from the principal cities, and arrivals in Chicago.
